F.O.G. Program General Information

- Initial Classification and Fees: All first year F.O.G. permits will be classified as large producers, and the corresponding large producer fees must be paid until the annual assessment is completed at the end of the year.
- Interceptor/Trap Sizing: The size of the grease interceptor or trap must comply with calculations from the California Plumbing Code.
- Inspection Schedule: The annual permit includes four inspections, conducted quarterly (once every three months).
- Pump Receipt Requirements: Pump receipts must be readily available during each inspection.
- Inspection Access: Access to outdoor or indoor grease interceptors/traps must be clear and unobstructed at the time of inspection. Failure to provide access may result in re-inspection fees.
- Annual Assessment: An annual assessment will be performed during the final inspection of the year to determine eligibility for transitioning from a large producer to a small producer classification. This assessment will consider pump receipts and inspection results.
- Renewal Fees: F.O.G. permit renewal fees will be determined based on the results of the annual assessment.
